2. What are the risks and what could the investor get in return?

Risk Indicator

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because the Issuer is not able to pay the investor.

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions are unlikely to impact the capacity of the Issuer to pay the investor of the product.

The investor shall be aware of the currency risk. If the investor receives payments in a different currency, the final return that the investor gets will depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so the investor could lose some or all of its investment.

If the Issuer is not able to redeem the investor what is owed, the investor could lose the entire investment.

For detailed information about all risks please refer to the risk sections of the legal documentation as specified in the section 'Other relevant information' below.

Performance Scenarios

What the investor will get from this product depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted. The scenarios shown are illustrations based on results from the past and on certain assumptions. Markets could develop very differently in the future.

Recommended holding period:		11/10/2027
Example Investment:		EUR 10'000
Scenarios		If the investor exits after 1 year	If the investor exits after 11/10/2027
Minimum	The investor is entitled to receive back at least EUR 1'380. The return is only guaranteed if the product is redeemed at maturity and the Issuer is able to fulfill its obligations under the product (see "Section 3 "What happens if the Issuer is unable to pay out?").
Stress	What the investor might get back after costs	EUR 2840	EUR 4670
	Average return each year	-71.55%	-34.04%
Unfavourable	What the investor might get back after costs	EUR 10120	EUR 11238

	Average return each year	8.88%	6.60%

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that the investor pays to the advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account the investor's personal tax situation, which may also affect how much the investor gets back.

The stress scenario shows what the investor might get back in extreme market circumstances.

The scenarios shown represent possible outcomes calculated based on simulations.

3. What happens if the Issuer is unable to pay out?

The investor is exposed to the risk that the Issuer might be unable to fulfil its obligations in respect of the product e.g. in the event of insolvency (inability to pay / over-indebtedness) or administrative order. A total loss of the investor's capital invested is possible. The product is a debt instrument and as such is not covered by any deposit protection scheme.

4. What are the costs?

The person advising the investor on the product or selling this product to the investor may charge the investor other costs. If so, this person will provide the investor with information about these costs and how they affect the investor's investment.

Cost over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from the investor's investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much the investor invests, how long the investor holds the product and how well the product does. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods.

We have assumed:

- In the first year the investor would get back the amount that the investor invested (0% annual return). For the other holding periods we have assumed the product performs as shown in the moderate scenario.
- EUR 10'000 is invested

	If the investor exits after 1 year	If the investor exits after the recommended holding period
Total costs	EUR 75	EUR 37
Annual cost impact (*)	0.7%	0.2% each year

(*) This illustrates how costs reduce the return of the investor each year over the holding period. For example it shows that if the investor exits at the recommended holding period the average return of the investor per year is projected to be 6.8% before costs and 6.6% after costs.

We may share part of the costs with the person selling the investor the product to cover the services it provides to the investor. It will inform the investor of the amount.

Composition of Costs

One-off costs upon entry or exit	If the investor exits after 1 year
Entry costs	0.4% of the amount the investor pays in when entering this investment. These costs are already included in the price the investor pays. Up to EUR 37
Exit costs	Exit costs are estimated to be 0.4% of the investment before it is paid out to the investor. These costs are already included in the price the investor receives and are only incurred if the investor exits before maturity. If the investor holds the product until maturity, no exit costs will be incurred. EUR 37

5. How long should the investor hold it and can the investor take money out early?

Recommended holding period: 11/10/2027 (until Redemption Date)

The objective of the product is to provide the investor with the redemption profile described under "1. What is this product?" above. This only applies if the product is held until maturity.

There are no possibilities to take the investor's money out early other than to sell the product on the exchange where the product is listed or off-exchange.

Under normal market conditions, the price at which the investor may sell the product will depend on the market parameters prevailing at the time, which could put the invested amount at risk.

In unusual market situations, or in the event of technical faults/disruptions, a purchase and/or sale of the product can be temporarily hindered, or may not be possible at all.
